COOLIDGE TO AID HOOVER IN DRIVE FOR PRESIDENCY

Nominee Will Base Campaign On Two Main Issues, Republican Prosperity And Good Governmental Management

Superior, Wis., July 17.—Herbert Hoover determined today to base his drive for the presidency on the two great issues of Republican prosperity and competent governmental management as evidenced in the Coolidge administration.

This was the principal development of the Republican nominee's conference with President Coolidge at the summer White House. These two issues previously received the endorsement of the President Charles G. Dawes and of many high Republican leaders who saw the nominee before he left Washington.

Hoover will emphasize these two issues in his speech of acceptance to be delivered August 11 at Leland Stanford university in Palo Alto, California. They will be stressed, he said, by party spokesmen all over the country and a great army of Republican orators who will invade every hamlet and town once the campaign gets under way.

GET $1,500 TO HELP MCKINLEY AVE. SURFACING

County Appropriation Is Part of That Asked
For Newgarden St.

Appropriation of $1,500 will be over to the city by the coun-

August from an original appropriation of $5,000, for the maintenance of McKinley ave., following an application presented to the city commissioners Monday by Mayor Phil G. Hiddleston, Service
Director C. A. Cavanaugh and City
Engineer F. S. Barckhoff.

The original appropriation was made for the improvement of New-garden st. out of the $950,000 county bond improvement program but that money never claimed by the city and Mayor.

The $1500 may be applied as part of the resurfacing on McKinley ave. Mayor Hiddleston said that, which it is expected, the city will take up in August. If announced to this fund, it will go toward paying the city's share of the project. The county has definitely committed the amount to the city in June.

The remaining sum, $3,500, will be available in 1929, when it is expected that council will place it in the city's general fund for use in improving some streets used by county roads.

The full amount was appropriated to the county to Salem for the improvement of Newgarden st., which was finished by the city without assistance.

Officials have not decided to place the $1,500 will be placed in the McKinley ave. project. The city recommendations will be presented tonight before council for approval.

The state highway department announced that it will assist in resurfacing of McKinley ave. provided the city takes favorable action. It will take the work and pay one-third of the cost. The city and county will each pay one-third of the cost of the resurfacing.

Moscow, July 17.—With six members of the Noble expedition and six members of the Amundsen relief squad still missing, the 10,000-ton Russian ice breaker Krassin was on its way to Spitzbergen today to refuel and to transfer to the Citta

Noble party who had been rescued from the ice.

There are 16 rescued men in all aboard the Krassin, the other nine being members of relief groups who had been searching for the lost explorers. All on board the ice breaker were described as being in good health.

COOPERATION OF THREE SERVICES TO HUNT LIQUOR

Acting Secretary Mills
Orders Drive On Rum
And Narcotics

CONCERTED ACTION
IS NOW MANDATORY

First Time Such An Order
Has Been Issued From
Treasury Office

Washington, July 17.—Cooperation of the customs, prohibition and coast guard services to suppress the traffic in liquor and narcotics was specifically ordered today by Acting Secretary of the Treasury Ogden L.
Mills.

In official instructions which went to all officers of these services Mills outlined the new treasury policy, evolved out of an exhaustive investigation of the situation.

While cooperation frequently has been urged among the various law enforcement branches of the treasury department, this marks the first time that an official order has been issued making it mandatory. It is taken to indicate that the government believes that concerted and unusual action must be taken to suppress the traffic in rum and dope.

Hold Conferences
Officers in charge of any branch or unit of the coast guard, customs,
prohibition and narcotic services,
stationed in the same city, were instructed to hold conferences twice monthly.

"The purpose of these conferences will be the interchange between officers of all information and evidence relating to violations of the law,
coming within their respective jurisdictions, in order that they may be investigated and prosecuted in an effective and expeditious manner," Mills' instructions said.

Where two or more services unite in an investigation or where information or evidence supplied by an officer of one service is utilized by another "full credit shall be given to the service or officer entitled thereto in the final report of the case," according to the order. This method was taken to keep up a better spirit in the services and to stimulate cooperation.

Settle Differences
"Any difference of opinion as to the scope of a particular investigation, or as to the service that shall be primarily responsible, should be discussed and settled in a friendly exchange of views, keeping in mind at all times the purpose to be achieved and the necessity for unified harmonious action," Mills said.

"Problems difficult of solution, or in regard to which an agreement may not be reached, shall be submitted to the bureau in Washington and final decision shall be effected by conference between the heads of the services."

The cooperative action was taken up today at the national gathering of prohibition administrators. The conference, meeting with Commissioner James M. Doran, is endeavoring to smooth out many perplexing problems of enforcement and to bring about an application of the law in a manner less offensive to the public. Because of the approach of the election and the fact that prohibition is one of the big issues, administrators were urged to bring about "gentlemanly" as well as effective enforcement.

MATHER JOINS FUNERAL FIRM

D. E. Mather, Salem funeral director for 30 years, is now associated with the Finerman & Co. funeral directors, 331 East High st. R. E. Finerman, manager, announced today.

Mather was in business in Salem until 18 months ago, when he sold his connection with Mather and Lutes and went to Florida. At the time of his retirement he was president of the Undertakers association of Columbiana, Carroll, Jefferson,
and Harrison counties.

He returned from Florida recently to re-enter business in Salem.

SUSPENDS PAIR HELD FOR SALE OF U. S. OFFICES

Washington, July 17.—Perry W.
Howard, negro Republican national committeeman from Mississippi and attorney in the department of Justice office, and Scott Hubbard, U. S. marshal for the southern Mississippi district, indicated at Biloxi, Miss.,
for conspiracy in the sale of federal offices, today were suspended
by Acting Attorney-General William D. Mitchell.

A formal order was issued by Mitchell, who at the same time said that the action did not "prejudice
the case against the men."

At the same time four men in a party sent out to search for Chuch-novsky by the steamer Braganza were also picked up.

The Russian aviator Chuchnovsky
and his four companions from an ice-floe near Cape Platte, Northeast

COUNCIL FACES ROLLINS' SEAT CASE TONIGHT

Solons Expected To Take Action On Eligibility
Of School Janitor

Due to interest in the alleged ineligibility of Councilman Frank L.
Rollins because of the different opinions given by the state and City Solicitor Cecil K. Scott, and Rollins' continued silence on the matter, action is expected on the question at the meeting of council tonight.

Many citizens are expected to attend the session in the hope that council will take up the case of the school janitor's eligibility.

Rollins will take his seat at the meeting of the council, despite the edict of the state declaring him ineligible and city auditor's refusal to compensate him until conclusive evidence is given that he is a member of council and entitled to pay.

Rollins is entering on his seventh month as a "member" of council, and the general opinion, due to the opinion of Attorney General E. C.
Turner and Chief Deputy Andrew
H. Foster of the bureau of inspection and supervision of public offices is that his presence during the passing of legislation will endanger the ruling of Scott that he is a regular member now.

He has received his monthly pay check for only two months during his work in council, and according to the ruling of the state, is not entitled to compensation. Immediately after the receipt of the opinions of Turner and Foster, his pay was stopped by Miss Woerther.

The case as far as the auditor is concerned is dropped, and it remains with council.

No statement except an admittance that he was not being paid, has been received from Rollins on the matter of the auditor's refusal to pay him. He refuses also to state what steps he may take to collect his pay or give any opinion relative to the statements of the state authorities.

Saves His Horses But Dies Under Train

New Lexington, July 17.—The successful effort of a farmer to save his team of horses cost the farmer's life at a grade crossing at Basil, about 20 miles north of here shortly before noon today.

Henry Heiser, 60, of Basil was killed instantly by a fast passenger train at the Basil crossing as he was driving his team across the tracks. Heiser who was walking beside his team whipped up the horses when he saw the train approaching. The team was driven clear of the tracks but Heiser was in the path of the locomotive.

Hoover To Remain In Cabinet Temporarily On Plea Of President

Certain Matters On West Coast Need His Personal Attention, Coolidge Tells Secretary, Announcement States

Superior, Wis., July 17.—Herbert Hoover will remain in the cabinet until after he has reached the Pacific coast.

President Coolidge let it be known today that certain matters are still pending before the department of commerce with special interest to the west coast that he wishes
Hoover personally to handle.

The decision was acceptable to Hoover following a conference with the president. The secretary of commerce is anxious to relinquish his cabinet position so that he may devote his entire time to the campaign against Governor Smith, but he is willing to finish up his job as Mr. Coolidge wishes.

Work Replacement Sure
The replacement of Secretary of Interior Hubert Work, who will manage Hoover's campaign, is a certainty.

Three names stand out promi-nently in the scramble for the commerce post—Walter F. Brown, of Toledo, present assistant secretary of commerce; William M. Butler, of Massachusetts, former chairman of the Republican National committee and Dr. Julius S. Klein, director of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce.

Brown is reputed to be Hoover's personal choice. The assistant secretary was relieved of his departmental duties to handle his chief's primary fight in Ohio at a time when that state looked to be the hottest battleground of the pre-convention campaign, and he is regarded highly by the Republican nominee. The appointment, however, will be into the Coolidge cabinet, and Hoover can do no more than suggest.

Third Name Still Persists
Butler is said to be the president's choice, but reluctant to the return to public life. Many of his friends, nevertheless, say that, having retired from the committee chairmanship, and having been defeated for his seat in the senate, he would not need much persuading to round out his career in the cabinet.

The third name that persists—Dr.
Klein—would mean an appointment of a career man. Klein has long been in the department and has the confidence of both the president and Hoover.

William V. Hodges, of Denver, former secretary of the Republican National committee, continues to be touted as the probable successor to Secretary Work in the interior department. Hodges and Work are personal friends.

Frightened by Snake; Kills It With Hand

Pottsville, Pa., July 17.—Louis Karbosky, 23, of Mount Pleasant, was today recovering from effects of shock and fright, after he was found unconscious along the Minersville road last night
with a three-foot rattlesnake
dead in his hands.

Physicians who attended him
said that he had not been bitten by the snake.

It was believed that Karbosky had been terrified when the snake struck at him and as he fell in a faint had seized the snake so tightly that he had killed it.

150 POISONED BY PIE IN LUNCHEES

Employees In Three Boston Plants Collapse From Food Chain Serves

Boston, July 17.—Chemists and physicians today are engaged in an examination and analysis of food from a large chain restaurant system in an effort to discover the source of food poisoning of more than 150 persons, including 60 employees of the Ford Motor company's assembling plant in Somerville.

While hospitals filled with victims in great pain reported that only one patient was in a serious condition, the chemical and medical experts of the state, city, and restaurant system were first looking into samples of chocolate cream pie eaten from box lunches by all the victims.

The chocolate cream pie ingredients—milk, eggs, flour and chocolate—are being closely examined.

Seventy-two persons are under treatment in five Boston hospitals having suffered a night of pain. At last 75 more were at their homes, having been treated at hospitals or by family physicians.

The first report of the city-wide poisoning came late yesterday afternoon when workmen suddenly began to collapse in the Ford plant in Somerville.

After more than 60 Ford company
workers had been taken to hospitals word came from Charlestown that workers in the Revere Sugar Refinery company's plant and the S. M.
Hoves company's plant had been stricken.

Dunlap Denies He's Guilty of Charge

Leslie Dunlap, formerly of Salem,
now of Pittsburgh, was arrested Monday by Patrolman William Reardon on a charge of false pretense with intent to defraud on an affidavit filed by Thomas Cadwalader, Salem.

Dunlap plead not guilty to the charge before Mayor Phil G. Hiddleston today, and furnished bond of $1,000 for hearing July 25.

Cadwalader alleges that Dunlap borrowed $750 from him, claiming that he had no mortgage on his

NEED $184,260 IN 1929 IS ESTIMATE BOARD PREPARES

Believe $13,531 Will Be In Treasury To Start
1929 School Year

PLAN REPAIRS IN
HEATING SYSTEMS

Construction of Reilly
Field North Wall Is Planned By Board

Public reading of the 1929 budget of the city's schools was held at the High school building Monday night.

The budget, as prepared by the board of education, calls for only $184,260 as the amount needed for public school purposes during 1929, according to the estimate based on pending necessities.

This is $13,880 less than the sum called for in the 1928 budget, fixed at $198,180.

It is estimated that $13,531.32 will be left over from this year's finances to start the 1929 school year.

The public library's budget was not presented at the meeting.

Activities of the board of education this year have been more marked than in previous years, due to the number of school and athletic field improvements.

Improve Heating System
Out of the school's appropriation and the bond issue for this year, a new grade school is being constructed, work on Reilly field will be ended for the year with the construction of the concrete and brick wall at the north end of the field, and improvements to heating systems of the different schools are pending.

A bid of the American Heating and Ventilating company was accepted for the repair of the furnaces
at Prospect and McKinley schools and installation of a new furnace in Fourth st. school.

The furnaces are badly in need of repair. The furnace to be replaced at Fourth st. school has been in the building since the original installation in 1896. The heating system at Prospect school is 30 years old.

Make Plans For Wall
Specifications for the concrete and brick wall at the north end of Reilly field were submitted to the board for approval and exceptions.
Bids are being advertised for today.
The specifications, compiled by the C. F. Owsley company, architects will be altered and submitted at the next meeting of the board.

The wall will be approximately 300 feet in length, seven feet high,
with two ticket booths built in at two entrances. The ticket booths may not be constructed, due to the added expense, until a later date.

No plans were made for the construction of an additional 1,000 concrete bleacher seats due to the lack of finances.

No amount was fixed for the construction of the wall at the north end of the field, it being understood that the expense will be within the limits of the appropriation for the improvement of the field.

TWO MORTGAGES FOR 61 MILLIONS

C. & P. Railroad for 60
Millions; Columbiana
Firm Is Sold

Two mortgages totaling $61,350,000
have been filed with County Recorder Paul H. Smith, the largest of the two being for $60,000,000 filed by the Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad
Co., in favor of the Bank of North America & Trust Co., of New York city, as trustee.

This is a general refunding mortgage, and is a lien on all property of the company in Columbiana county.
The printed text occupies 87 pages,
and the filing fee was $40.10.

The second mortgage, for $1,350,- 000, is a deed of trust filed by the National Rubbery Machinery Co., to the National Bank of Commerce,
New York city. There are 141 pages of printed text to be transcribed and the filing fee was $59.

In the latter mortgage, it is revealed that the property of the Banner Machine Co., Columbiana, has been absorbed by the new corporation, which is a combination of 13
textile producing equipment for rubber plants. It is said there are five different manufacturers of the same equipment merged under the new agreement.

HITTING THE NAIL

Recently the editor of a prominent mid-western newspaper told the Chicago Theological seminary that if a newspaper omits from its columns all news of crime and scandal, it falls far short of its duty as if it went to the other extreme and surrendered to sensationalism. That editor hit the nail squarely upon its head.

Whoever gives the most meager amount of serious thought to the subject, will find it difficult to dissent from this editorial opinion.

What is the mission of a newspaper? This, primarily: To print the news—never to suppress it!

It is to be regretted that the world in which newspapers are being printed, is no modern Utopia. To present it as such, by printing only pleasant news, assuredly would not serve to make any real improvement in conditions. It would only withhold facts from those who read the paper expecting to find such facts therein.

If the press, by a great and impossible conspiracy, could agree to blind itself and its trusting readers to all the criminality, which, as a matter of fact exists, it would be an occasion for rejoicing on the part of those whose feet are forever straying toward the dark pathways of lawlessness.

Happily, there are comparatively few newspapers which follow such a policy. Happily, it is recognized by a great majority of editors that there is no reason or excuse for dragging-out of the muddy gutter every sinner of scandal, in the belief that readers crave such a diet.

But suppression of all news that may bear the color of crime and scandal is equally as indefensible as the yellowest of yellow journalism. For suppression is deception.

WINDOWS WILL STICK

J. T. Tatum, a bold, would-be inventor at the American Railway association's recent Baltimore convention, called for a responsive car window, responsive, that is, to an ordinary amount of muscular pressure. Like Glendower, Mr. Tatum feels, one believes, vainly, and not even spirits from the vasty deep will arise to consummate a miracle.

The immovable car window is not so much a consequence of bad carpentering aggravated by softened varnish on hot days, as it is a rigid exponent of a traditional theory of ventilation in railroad coaches. The tiny slots in car roofs usually are closed, and conductors are apt to be staggered by an appeal for a whiff of air.

Monkeying with ventilators upsets the calculations of experts, technicians ready to submit diagrams in the interest of uniform temperature.

These are the scientists, presumably, who have installed thermometers in so many trains. The mercury is there to warn you to stop fidgeting. The place actually isn't as hot as it seems. Mr. Tatum ought to be aware of these facts, but one fears that with his dream of movable car windows he is an incorrigible idealist.

Mr. Tatum should go to France where not even the fiction of adjustability is maintained in express coaches. Then he might see how advanced the folks are over here, for at least in the United States the pretense is made that the car windows can be lifted.

What Others Say

PROBING RELIGION

A New York minister has been driving a trolley to gain experience in human nature that will aid him in his profession. At the wheel he has looked to little like a preacher he has seen all he wished and his fellow drivers never suspected him until his adventure got into print. Now he is preaching a series of sermons on his impressions and the lessons they have taught him.

Evidently he has been startled by the indifference of the "man in the street" to religion as exemplified in the modern church. He still believes the average man is religious at heart but easily unconvinced by what intensely, most preachers. Theology appeals to them not a bit and most sermons are only shop talk in which they are no more interested than in that outside their own daily work. Their religious needs are not reached at all so the church as a church is away beyond their ken. They give a measure of respect to formal religion and its advocates but no allegiance at all.

The advertising pastor puts the blame for this on the church and none at all on the indifference. He sees a need for a "freshly-bound" religion that will meet the requirements of the average man and his modern conditions. Theology will not do it, but the right sort of religion will. His first lesson is that indifference of the church to modern needs has bred the indifference of the "man in the street" to the church. This relationship must be upset, he thinks, before the church can do the work it should do.

As a sort of coincidence, in a current magazine is an article that draws the same conclusion from an entirely different source. There the complaint of the taxi-driver preacher received from the "man in the street" is made by a scientist. His grievance is that the church's indifference to science has bred indifference of scientists to the church. He holds, as does our minister, that there is no need for such a cleavage and that the two can and should be reconciled. He claims the same heart religion for his class as the taxi driver and the same futile effort to supply the demand. He, too, wants a new church that will accept science and teach religion scientifically, condemning at a total loss all present church religion. So there you have at top and bottom the same craving and the same disheartening inability to satisfy. Which is right—the church or her critics?—Portland Express.

The Stars Say—

For Wednesday, July 18.
By JENNIFER KENNEL.

THIS day, according to the astrological scheme, may bring with it a notable demonstration of the paradox. While there may be a sudden exaltation of very vital opportunities and prospects, following those shown by the definite removal of some long-dormant and crystallized state of affairs, yet certain hazards accompany the expanded prospects. Prudence, therefore, and as prudence is defined as a well-considered advantage, all will prosper.

Those whose birthday is due next week are of importance. Developments with sudden changes follow on their shoulders, and they are moved but these developments prospects may be nullified if the prudent caution to reach and improve moves as well as to find out something of what shop judgments be followed. Good management may be profitable of desired benefits and probably reduce chance of environment and misfortune. A child born on this day may be skillful and ingenious as well as practical and industrious and it may need to learn self-control and freedom.

Wednesday reveals the blending of the finite with the infinite.—Ad.

HOW TO FEED VICTIMS OF BOWEL DISORDERS

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D.

United States Senator from New York, Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

In the face of serious illness, the average man becomes meek and admittedly helpless. As he gazes upon the suffering and weakness of the patient, he realizes how little he knows of things which bring comfort and help to restore health.

Most of us know little enough about how to choose our own food. A man may know everything else and yet not know what he really ought to eat. If called upon to make up a diet for a sick person, he would throw up his hands in surrender.

Suppose you were dealing with a person past middle life, suffering a violent bowel disturbance. What would you advise?

To have regular intestinal action, a healthy person must eat some food which contains fiber. Every farmer gives his animals "roughage," the chief source of which is hay. It serves to supply the brush-like materials which sweep the lining of the intestine and assist in its cleansing. Roughage is equally important to the human animal. The brushing of the walls serves to stimulate the muscular coats of the intestine, producing the wave-like contractions which carry the waste substances outward and outward.

In "bowel complaint" the lining of the intestine becomes congested. It may become actually inflamed and sometimes ulcerated. The tissues grow more and more sensitive. Then food which contains the least possible amount of fibre may have just enough to raise havoc with the disturbed mucous lining.

On this account it is a great mistake in bowel trouble to eat any kind of tough, fibrous, or otherwise undigestible food. It is better to take no food at all for a whole day. If the bowels are "running off," it helps control the trouble to omit food entirely.

When the pain and fever lessen, simple feedings may be begun. Bear in mind one rule—never give any unstrained food to the victim of bowel disturbance, whether acute or chronic. Every fruit, vegetable and cereal should be run through a fine meshed sieve. This removes seeds, fibre and other substances which would irritate and further inflame the bowel lining.

Almost any fruit or vegetable can be given if it is treated in this manner. During the period of recovery, when appetite is fitful, it will make it a lot easier to nourish the patient if there is a variety from which to select the food. Straining the food makes it possible to have that variety.

Frequent feeding of very small meals is better than forcing the patient to eat. With an assortment of broths, gruels, vegetables and fruits, you will coax the palate and provide the nourishment essential to recovery.

Answers to Health Queries

A.—Piles are usually due to chronic constipation. This condition must be overcome. The diet must be corrected and special treatment is necessary in order to cure. For particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

H. S. Q.—What should a girl aged 13, 5 ft. 1/2 in. tall weigh; also a girl 17, 5 ft. 2 in. tall?

A.—What will reduce large ankles and legs?

A.—They should weigh, respectively, about 105 and 117 pounds.

2.—Reducing the weight in general, also walking, dancing and exercises should help.

Alfred E. Smith and Democratic National Chairman John J. Raskob.

"I think that just such statements and position will cost the Democratic party thousands of votes and very probably bring to pass its defeat in the coming November elections," he said in replying to Raskob's general letter urging modification of the dry law.

He sharply disagreed with Raskob's statement that social conditions were so degraded that a system to permit use of liquor in the home was needed.

Markets

OPENING IRREGULAR
The stock market opened irregular today. The States Steel declined 1/4 to 127 1/2. General Motors advanced 1/4 to 125 1/2. Nash Motors fell off 1/4 to 124 1/2. Willys Overland gained 1/4 to 125 1/2. Mack Trucks gained 1/4 to 125 1/2. Atlantic Refining dropped 1/4 to 124 1/2. Other oils were irregular. In the Industrial Radio, Corbin advanced 1/4 to 160 1/2. Coca Cola declined 1/4 to 159 1/2. Pennsylvania railroad eased off 1/4 to 158 1/2. New York Central gained 1/4 to 157 1/2. American Telephone and Telegraph advanced 1/4 to 156 1/2. Trading was light in the market.

With the market inactive, prices were irregular during the session today with the tendency toward lower prices. The industrial specialties in general did not meet with success except in a few instances where enthusiasm continued on the wave.

Refining was down 1/4 to 124 1/2 before noon after having been up 1/4 to 125 1/2. This stock has been under pressure on recurring rumors that the Rockefeller interests are selling. General Electric eased off 1/4 to 132 1/2. American Airlines eased off 1/4 to 79 1/2. Hudson Motor 1/4 to 79 1/2. American Telephone and Telegraph 1/4 to 75 1/2. Studebaker 1/4 to 75 1/2.

Other issues held firm on moved somewhat in face of this downward drift. Wright Aero was unchanged at 128. Radio Corporation advanced 1/4 to 161 1/2. United Fruit jumped 2 1/2 to 154 1/2. A bullish factor was the decrease of 25,000,000 in brokers' loans and a decline in the close of last week. It was interpreted in some quarters as foreshadowing another upturn of the week.

One of the biggest declines during the morning was a 2 1/2 point drop in Coca Cola to 157. United States Steel was 1/4 off at 124 1/2. Unlisted Gas of New York, high yesterday appeared plans to merge with the Brooklyn Edison, declined 1/4 to 143 1/2. Chrysler was down 1/4 to 69 1/2. Commodity markets were irregular. Call money opened at 6 per cent.

25 INJURED IN ROCKET BLAST

Fireworks Bomb Falls In to Crowd of 3,000 At Religious Meet

Pittsburgh, July 17.—A defective aerial fireworks bomb today was blamed for the injury of 25 persons and a panic among 3,000 others who gathered to witness a pyrotechnic display in honor of our lady of Mount Carmel, between Swissvale and Rankin, suburbs, late last night.

The bomb was fired into the air but failed to explode and descended into the crowd. There it exploded, burning 11 persons seriously, and causing a panic which police were called to quiet. The bomb sent a spray of small shot through the crowd, killing 25 and throwing the huge assemblage into a screaming uproar.

Police commandeered automobiles to rush the victims to nearby hospitals and homes. It was thought that many failed to receive medical attention, fleeing to their homes after being burned or struck by pieces of shot.

UNCOVER GRAFT IN ST. LOUIS

St. Louis, July 17.—A special grand jury called to investigate conditions in St. Louis county, including allegations of official grafting, made a partial report today returning two indictments.

The names of those indicted was withheld, pending their arrest, but it was stated that no county officials were named.

GIOLITTI, FIVE TIMES PREMIER, DEAD IN ITALY

Rome, July 17.—Messages of condolence from all parts of the world today poured into the city of Cavour where Giovanni Giolitti, five times premier of Italy, succumbed to uric acid poisoning early this morning.

The famous statesman who was known as the "Old Fox" of Italian politics, was 85 years old. At his bedside at the time of his death were his daughter, Mary, his son-in-law and his family physician, Dr. Chiaravalle.

To the end he remained fully conscious. Just before passing on he joyfully remarked to his physician: "Do you know why I reached the age of 85? Because I always tried to avoid doctors."

Chicago Elevated's Fare Now 10 Cents

Chicago, July 17.—Effective tomorrow at midnight fares on the Chicago elevated lines will be boosted to 10 cents straight. Heretofore they have been three rides for a quarter.

The increase in rates was granted the Chicago Rapid Transit company in a ruling handed down late yesterday by the United States district court. It is in the form of an injunction restraining the Illinois Commerce Commission from enforcing an order against a fare increase.

The company's plea for the fare boost was that stockholders are not receiving a "fair return" on their investment. "Even with the new rate in effect," said one of the officials, "the company will be making less than 5 per cent on its investment."

Steubenville High Grid Star Drowned

Steubenville, July 17.—The name of Anthony Reducha, 20, former Steubenville high school football star, was added today to the toll of drowning victims taken by the Ohio river this season.

Reducha, with two companions, were canoeing on the river here yesterday, when their frail craft captured in the middle of the stream. The three youths, strong swimmers, all made for the shore. When but 15 feet from the shore, Reducha was seized with cramps and sank beneath the surface of the water, and although his companions sought to rescue him their efforts were of no avail.

Dear Friends:
This has been SOME busy place the past two or three days.

I keep telling the boss it's the advertising that's bringing all this business, but he doesn't warm up much to that suggestion. When business is quiet, he says my ads. are losing their punch. When business peps up he says it's the high quality of the work done by American Dry Cleaning Co.

Can you beat that? Wish you'd tell him you're reading these ads. He's a nice fellow and all that, but I think he is holding out on me.

FARM GROUP TO WAR ON HOOVER

Corn Belt Committee Is Against "Industrial" Coolidge Policies

Des Moines, Ia., July 17.—Corn belt committee here today was on record as repudiating Hoover and endorsing the farm plank of the Democrats.

Resolutions declared organized agriculture is not interested in partisan politics, stating "our problem is one of simple economic justice."

The committee is comprised of representatives of 49 farm and co-operative marketing organizations from 14 states. They claim to speak for one million farmers.

Resolutions pledged to continue the fight for the McNary-Haugen bill and "with every ounce of strength to oppose Hoover-Coolidge policy of industrialization of America at expense of agriculture."

Continued support was promised to members of congress who voted for the McNary-Haugen bill.

Resolutions committee of 14 members were Republicans with three exceptions.

George N. Peek, Moline, Ill., chairman of the committee of 22, a separate farm group who recently endorsed Smith and the Democratic platform, was invited to sit on the committee. Peek declared his group is in accord with his action and that of the corn belt committee.

GOOD WILL BUILDING

What are you building—
A fortune today,
Or something far better
That won't pass away?

Are you working for dollars—
Or building good will,
That as time goes on
Will be living still?

Are you looking ahead
To a future vast,
And building with things
That are going to last?

For your greatest asset
Is not your gold,
But your honored name
That is wealth untold.

So build a foundation
By word and deed,
Of lasting good will—
And you'll succeed.

SALEM CHINA AND
FURNACE WINNERS

Salem China and Electric Furnace won the City playground baseball league games at Centennial park Monday night. The games were play-offs of games postponed
last week on account of rain.
The Pottery outfit took advantage of a flock of Collegian errors in the first and fourth innings, scoring seven runs on three hits in those frames, while Vincent was holding the college boys to five hits for the route, winning by the score, 8-2.
Vincent was pounded hard but was given excellent support. Gratton pitched fine ball, but errors at the crucial moments by the Collegian infield proved disastrous.
The Pottery scored three runs in the first on one hit and three errors,
and four times in the fourth, when Vincent's triple cleaned the bases.
He scored himself, later.
The Electric Furnace scored four runs in the seventh and final frame to edge out the Methodists by a 7-6 score in the nightcap. Harrington's triple with the sacks loaded broke up the ball game.
It was the second win for the Furnace and Pottery teams and the second licking for last night's losers.

"MY BEST GIRL"

Simplicity and human charm, the charm and fascination of the main character, Mary Pickford are the compositions of the success of "My Best Girl," the show featured at the Grand tonight and tomorrow.

The characters look and act like the average human does under similar circumstances. This essential realism, the absolute naturalness of the characters make the story life-like and replete with human interest.

From a comedy angle, too, the picture is noteworthy. It is, despite the pathos in the later scenes, one of the funniest of Miss Pickford's career.

The theme is a pleasing variety of the "Cinderella" type with Miss Pickford in the role of a stock girl in the basement of a great 5 and 10 cent establishment, and Charles Rogers, the leading man, as the son of the millionaire owner of the store and Miss Pickford's assistant.

To please his mother, Rogers, playing as Joe Grant, has become engaged to Millicent Rogers, one of the wealthy set. Joe's father, realizing that Joe does not love the girl, is not in favor of the match, but assents to keep peace in the family.

Mrs. Merrill plans a big surprise for Joe in a cafe, but, having fallen in love with Maggie, his boss in the five and ten, does not attend. Maggie doesn't know who Joe really is, but when she goes home with him the night of the "surprise" to eat at his house, she finds out to her confusion and humiliation.

She rushes home and refuses to have anything to do with Joe. The following morning the elder Merrill decided to send Joe to Japan, and sends Joe down after a ticket. Joe, though buys two, hoping to win Maggie to his side and marry her, and take her with him. But Merrill hears of the two tickets and goes to Maggie's home and offers her a check to forget his son.

At that moment Joe arrives. Maggie immediately assumes the air of a "gold-digger" and accepts the check, telling Joe she was "only after the money, anyhow" and that he could leave her now. Joe refuses to believe her and despite Maggie's efforts to look "tough" continues to plead with her, until her father strides in the room, declares that he is her boss and orders her to marry him.

The fun comes to an end with Maggie and Joe just barely catching the steamer for Japan, and leave happy in each others arms.

"MAD HOUR"

Brilliant in its action, and dramatic in its conclusion, "Mad Hour," a First National picture, adapted from Elmer Glyn's story "The Man and the Moment," which is at the State tonight is unique in its entertainment value because it makes no effort to "sugar coat" the situations.

"Mad Hour" is a lively story, true to life, which pictures a group of youths trying to leap the hurdles of experience with a fast traveling young set.

An unusual side of college life is pictured. It shows not the campus and the fraternity house side of life, but the sons of the millionaires at play at cabarets and roadhouses, with pleasure-loving girls of the poorer families of the town.

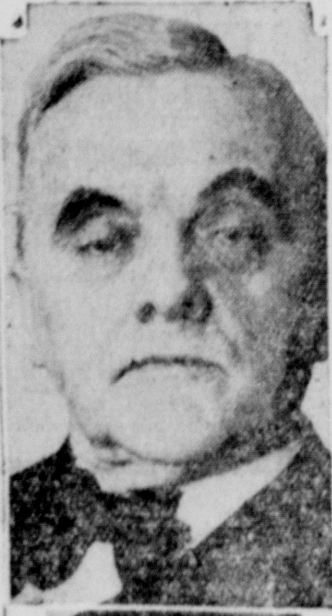

Sally O'Neill appears as the daughter of a taxi-driver in an eastern college city, where the sons of the wealthy, attending college, are wont to merry with working girls who see in their attention an escape from drudgery and a way to obtain many of the good times and luxuries of life which might otherwise be denied them.

Donald Reed gives a good performance as the son of the wealthy family who, on a wild party married Sally, only to find himself disinherited by his people.

Alice White is excellent as Alice, her little gold-digger pal, giving her usual lively performance. Larry Kent does well with his role as the boy who really loves Sally, but finds himself left behind through the activities of the fast and wealthy college boy crowd.

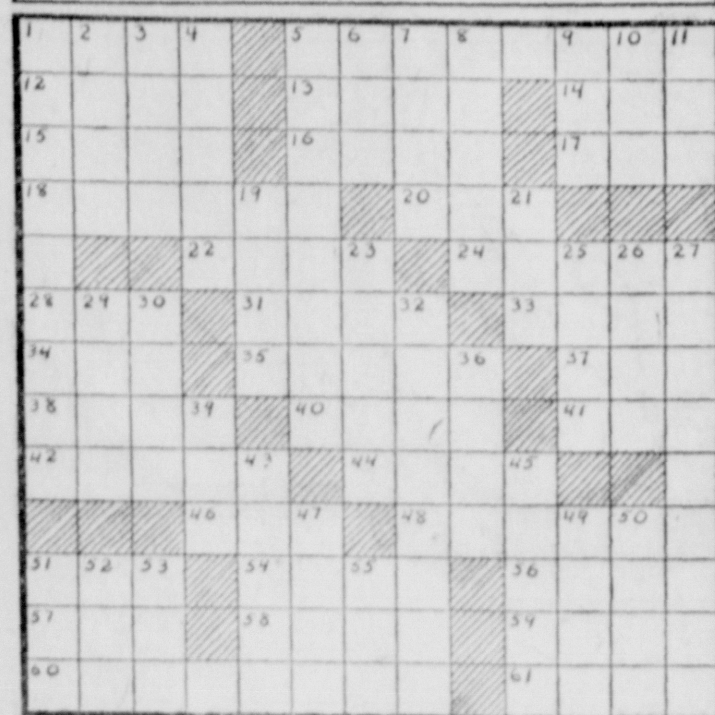

The story's plot portrays Miss O'Neill as a gold digger who mingles deeply and pays the price. The close of the picture is good, through it surprises, ending tragically, but for the best, in keeping with the story's lesson.

PLEATED lace is put to a lovely use in the above dress to introduce the flare motif into the simple straight silhouette. Used for a dignified shoulder cape, sleeve tabs and a flaring skirt, the effect is completely lovely.

Appetizing Recipes for Green Corn

Lovers of green corn find it in the markets at its best during August. In most localities, there are many ways to cook and serve it besides boiled, steamed, roasted and stewed. If purchased in the morning do not husk it until nearly time to cook it, then husk and wrap the ears in a clean towel and lay in the refrigerator until the water is boiling hot. Then put it in and boil 15 to 18 minutes, according to its freshness. Drain and serve in a napkin. Do not add salt, for it makes corn yellow and toughens it. In husking always remove every strand of the silk.

Green Corn Soup

Husk and silk six ears. Then cut from the cob, scraping down the milk with the back of the knife, cover the cobs with boiling water and cook 20 minutes then strain. Add to the water the corn pulp, a grated onion, a tablespoonful of minced celery leaves and a pint of milk. Cook gently for 15 minutes, then add salt, pepper and a scant quarter cupful of sugar. Thicken with a tablespoonful of butter and the same of flour cooked together three minutes, then stirred in gradually. When smooth, add a small cupful of hot cream and serve. Serve toasted croutons with the soup.

Green Corn Pudding

Husk, silk and cut the corn from ten large or 12 small ears. Add to the kernels four beaten eggs, two tablespoonfuls of soft butter, salt, pepper, three tablespoonfuls of sugar, two cupfuls of milk and a small cupful of cream. Add the juice of a large onion, mix well, then turn in a buttered baking dish and bake 30 to 40 minutes, depending on the heat of the oven. Serve as a main luncheon dish, or as an entree with the meat.

Corn Baked With Tomatoes

Husk, silk and cut enough corn from the cobs to make a quart of pulp, usually 10 or 12 ears. Butter a baking dish and put in a layer of sliced pared tomato, then a layer of corn, dust with salt, pepper and sugar, then strew with a few fine crumbs. Add another layer of toatoes and dot with little lumps of butter, sprinkle with a grated onion, then corn, pepper, salt, a little sugar, then cover with crumbs. Sprinkle with a little grated American dairy cheese, turn in a small cupful of heavy cream and bake 35 minutes in a medium oven. Serve with broiled calf's liver, baked potatoes and hot biscuits.

Corn Omelet

A New England breakfast dish. Cut the kernels from three ears of freshly boiled corn. Break six fresh eggs into a bowl, add a little pepper, salt and a teaspoonful of sugar. Add the corn and a small cupful of cream. Have the omelet pan hot with a tablespoonful of melted butter in it and turn in the batter. Cook the omelet in the usual way, folding it and slipping it on a hot dish. Garnish with strips of broiled bacon and sprays of crisp parsley.

Salad Hortense

Husk, silk and boil six large full ears of corn, then cut from the cob. When cold add a cupful of cut-up celery, a thinly sliced onion, or a cupful of scallions cut small, and a minced green pepper. Fold in enough heavy mayonnaise made without mustard, to moisten, or Russian dressing can be used. Then fill large tomatoes that have had the skins removed then been hollowed out from the stem end and chilled. Set on lettuce leaves and garnish with stoned olives.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, July 17.—The Roman cape, which has appeared for Lido wear this summer. Of course a Parisian couturier discovered it and this time it is the chic tailor Silva in the rue de la Paix.

It is cut in circular fashion from yards and yards of finest broadcloth and is wide enough to lay over and throw the end over the shoulder in exactly the same fashion as the smart cape the handsome Roman officers wear. It has such big roomy sleeves that one can scarcely find them, but they make the garment infinitely more comfortable and easy to wear than a simple cape.

It comes in exquisite pastel shades such as pale yellow, corn flower, blue, pink and green and looks stunning on the beach when worn over like frocks.

Another chic beach coat comes in white or ivory heavy flannel or velours de laine banded with thick wool embroideries which follow and embrace the braid border. Applied pieces of flannel in bright contrasting colors are put in the corners and gives an amusing touch.

Bathing costumes now appearing at the smart resorts seem to prove that they are growing more and more simple every year, but they are being made of materials which are quite too luxurious for the water.

New York — There have been shocking conditions in the Holland tunnel, a vehicular tube underneath the Hudson between New York and New Jersey. Collectors of tolls and motorists have been holding hands painfully. Static electricity is generated by cars shooting downhill to the tunnel entrance. As a remedy collectors are to stand on rubber mats.

Famous Equestrienne and "Babe"

This interesting picture shows May Wirth, noted circus rider, and her intelligent milk white Arabian steed, "Babe," without whose knack of increasing his tempo to suit his rider Miss Wirth would never, she insists, attempt anything so dangerous as the double somersault while riding bareback. The pretty star of the tanbark also credits "Babe" with making her forward somersault possible.

Acid Stomach

Excess acid is the common cause of indigestion. It results in pain and sourness about two hours after eating. The quick corrective is an alkali which neutralizes acid. The best corrective is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia neutralizes instantly many times its volume in acid. It is harmless and tasteless and its action is quick. You will never rely on crude methods, never continue to suffer, when you learn how quickly, how pleasantly this premier method acts. Please let it show you—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875. Adv.

Midwest Will Soon Lead World In Artistic Things Is View Of Eastern Expert

Kansas City, Mo., July 17.—That drab midwest of Sinclair Lewis' "Main Street," where cats droused among the cabbages in the windows of smelly grocery stores, has a champion in the person of Walter M. Grant of New York, executive secretary of the American Art Dealers' association.

The middle west, says Mr. Grant, already possesses outstanding examples of art, and will lead the world in the artistic in the immediate future generations.

The art authority, who is making a tour of the United States in company with his son, Gordon Grant, recently spent two days in Kansas City.

West to the Front
"This country," Mr. Grant prophesied, "is obtaining the art treasures of the world, and the midwest is going to go to the forefront; already has started."

Mr. Grant pointed out that where in the past military conquests had secured art treasures for the victorious nations, as in the case of Rome under the Caesars, and France, in the time of Napoleon, now America is making a "money conquest." He likewise believes that the homes of the wealthier Americans will become miniature art galleries which are to be reckoned with.

"America," Mr. Grant declared, "is making a money conquest in the field of art. All the great examples of painting, statuary, tapestry and other treasures, will be moving to America, except a few which because of sentimental or historical value, to other nations must be retained by them."

"Now then where is it that the start of culture in all the arts begins. In the home! Before a people as a whole develops its art appreciation and its own art production, first the homes must be developed."

"Kansas City is unsurpassed from that point of view. I have seen all that the east and most that the old world can boast, but never have I seen such a home section as the southern part of Kansas City contains."

The home ideal established here, Mr. Grant pointed out, would lead to the rest.

Under-Sea Life Is Shown In Peabody Museum Exhibit

New Haven, Conn., July 17.—Life beneath the surface of the sea has been reproduced to an amazing degree in the vast Peabody museum of natural history at Yale and for two years at least will continue to attract attention. Harry Payne Bingham's oceanographic collection is the medium of showing to humans what life in the midst of the deep is like. More than 3,000 items collected by the New York explorer in the course of three expeditions that carried him through the Bay of Panama, the Gulf of California, and the Bahama and Bermuda islands and produced a lot of things science hadn't even dreamed of.

A 14-foot sword fish is a chief feature in the exhibit but here are sharks up to eight feet long, a green moray that reminds the spectator of the sea serpent of tradition, a 300-pound jew fish, and a seven-foot weak-fish there also. Then the barracuda is there, and so are the puffers, trigger-fish, surgeon-fish, cow-fish and trunk-fish, Amberjack, rooster-fish and lady-fish, wrasses, parrot-fish, angel-fish, dolphin, hound-fish, flying-fish and a great collection of groupers are on display. Wilfrid S. Bronson's oil and water-color paintings of the sea life are shown with the Bingham collection and tell of more than 100 species of fish.

OLD GRAY MARE TRIES COMEBACK FOR PARISIANS

More Fiacres Make Their Bow On Boulevards of France's Capital

Paris, July 17.—The old grey mare is trying to stage a "comeback" on Paris boulevards.

Once more she ventures along the Champs-Elysees, dragging a fiacre behind her. Science may be perfecting rocket cars, fast sea gliders and wingless airplanes, but for all these means of transportation the old grey mare has one contemptuous snort.

Horses came back as a passing whim when society women climbed into the saddle and set out on a race to Cannes, 900 miles from Paris, but it took one Hans Hartmann, of Berlin, to bring cab-drivers back to style by coaxing his steed, Erasmus, along the high road from Germany to France.

Cochers (cab drivers) now cock their hats at a jaunty angle and wait outside downtown bars for customers who desire to take a leisurely trip up the hill to Montmartre or a turn around the Bois de Boulogne by moonlight.

Elderly persons who have memories of the days of red-coated Hungarian orchestras and champagne at six francs a bottle are regular patrons of the new (old) style of locomotion.

What the old grey mare may not realize is that she is a novelty of the moment and that traffic police hope she will shortly disappear forever from city streets.

Paris is now equipped to speed up the passage of the swelling stream of motorists, and the cab horse is frowned upon when she trots out on the broad boulevards. But she does not care—there are plenty of side streets.

The romantic life of George Sand, French novelist (1804-1876) is the subject of a 400 damage suit filed in Paris courts.

The action was brought by Mme. Aurore Sand, granddaughter of the writer, against Frederick Boulenger, Parisian critic.

Mme. Sand charges that the memory of her grandmother was defamed in an article entitled "The First Lovers of George Sand," alleging that Boulenger referred to his subject as "the woman of innumerable lovers."

Boulenger, in a counter-suit, asserts he was within his rights as a critic of history and literature and points to a quotation attributed to George Sand: "Virtu tu n'es qu'un mot." (Virtue you are only a word). He asks nominal damages.

Press-the-button votes will make the laws of France if an electrical balloting device is accepted by the government.

Each desk in the Chamber of Deputies and in the senate would be equipped with two electric lights, a white one signifying "yes," and a blue one for "no."

Instead of raising their hands or writing out a ballot legislators would voice their will merely by pressing a button.

Seals of North Sea Have Closed Season

Hamburg, July 17.—Hamburg now follows Prussia's lead in issuing regulations for the protection of the North Sea seals. The animals formerly had no closed season, and were gradually being exterminated.

Parisian Beach Holiday Novelties

Some of the unique fashions recently shown for the first time in London by a Parisian designer are the loose knickers for the beach (right), which are made of wool jersey and feature the V neck. On the left we have one of the new "Windmills" blue cloth coats which may be slipped on over one's bathing suit when the sun proves too hot for a midday picnic.

New Democratic Vice-Chairmen

Berlin, July 17.—Automobiles are steadily gaining ground in Germany. There are now more than 75,000 automobiles and motorcycles in use in Berlin alone, and this number will probably be increased by about 5,000 every month during this season.

In Berlin dealers sold no less than 3,323 new cars and more than 2,000 motorcycles. The Police Automobile department has just issued a statement showing that in the first half of June an average of 265 licenses per day were issued for new cars and motorcycles.

At the same time, German automobile exports doubled during the last 12 months. While there were cars totalling five million marks exported during the first quarter 1927, the export of automobiles during the same period 1928 amounted to 10 million marks.

This was mainly due to an increased demand for German passenger cars, the export of trucks dropped from 3,600,000 to 2,200,000 marks during the last 12 months. But the import of foreign especially American trucks, also dropped from 439 to 35 during that period.

In the passenger car line, however, foreign competition in the German automobile market made itself more felt than ever. While the value of imported cars for the first three months of 1927 amounted to 14,700,000 marks, the figure rose to 18,400,000 marks for the same period of this year, though the second quarter of 1927 had been put up a record with 23,600,000 marks of imported cars.

Copenhagen — Messages received from King's Bay state that Captain Sora and Engineer Van Dongen were forced to eat their dogs while awaiting rescue on Foy Island. The two men who were rescued by airplane Saturday and taken to Kings Bay, said that it was necessary to kill the huskies that they used in their trek over the ice in order to sustain their own lives.
